Extended Deadlines, Artists Wanted!

UNK - STEM Building

Deadline: Tues. Dec. 31st, 2019

The STEM Selection Committee is seeking submissions for two separate public art projects within the central atrium of the building.

The STEM Selection Committee is most inspired by the notion that all the programs in this building are united by the hard work of research, trial and error, repetition that goes into every discovery, creation and invention that improves the world around us. The artwork for both projects, detailed below, should use this notion as an overall concept.

Total Budget: $250,000

UNK Early Childhood Education Center

Deadline: Tues. Dec. 31st, 2019

There are two site options, submitting artists can select one or both sites to meet the Selection Committees preferred overarching concept.

The committee envisions a unique and engaging artwork that aligns with the concept "Nature and Nurture."

The artwork should nurture creativity and wonder, create an inviting and explorative environment, and embody some of the peacefulness of the natural world.

Total Budget: $61,968
