Dear Colleague

Ana and I (Jessie) just returned from a week on Babanango Game Reserve, an African Habitat Conservancy project in South Africa. And wow, just wow!

Babanango is about 3 hours north of Durban and was one of the coolest trips I've ever been on. It was incredible to see what goes into the creation of a new game reserve. For instance, we witnessed 6 giraffes be released onto the 22,000-hectare reserve. Ana and I are hosting a webinar next month if you're interested in hearing about our trip and learning about Babanango. Register here.

In other news, Elewana is offering a private driver, guide and safari vehicle at no extra cost, Sopa has activities for the whole family, EcoTraining has tips for thriving in the bush, Anantara is offering the ultimate "Africa Experience," and Cheli & Peacock has an awesome modern safari in Nairobi.

Please get in touch if you need anything! The Emerging Destinations team is happy to schedule virtual appointments (above) or pass along any marketing materials, etc.
