PRINCIPAL'S UPDATE

I wanted to highlight a special message in this newsletter to Danelle Rivera (EVHS Social Studies Teacher, Devil Duels Sponsor, EVHS Class of '93 Alumni) and the incredible work that goes into our Homecoming Devil Duels. Last week we witnessed yet again a phenomenal school-wide, project based learning experience that culminates in our Devil Duels assembly. In that moment, and in our gymnasium we get to experience what it looks like for over 1000 people to all be connected to common goals and outcomes. Right before your eyes you see 9th graders become more confident as they see school spirit modeled by the 10th, 11th, & 12th graders. Students who normally are not in the spotlight are in front of their peers, speaking in the microphone, dancing, competing, chanting, and singing. For almost three hours there is a deafening roar of cheering purely in support of each other. In a world full of negativity and isolation, they are able to create a space of positivity and a sense of belonging. Full credit goes to Ms Rivera and her Devil Duels Executive Committee of students who organize, model, convince, and lead our school through a formative process. In six weeks they are able to have every student and staff member placed into 15 different committees that are then responsible for creating everything that goes into Devil Duels. A key component of any community is the culture that you create within the people around you. As an alumni and faculty member of EVHS, Ms Rivera continues to impact the community of EVHS through the culture that is fostered by Devil Duels. As a school community we want to say "Thank You and Congratulations" to Ms Rivera and her student led team for another fantastic year of Devil Duels. We cannot wait to do it all again in 2023!

As we continue to navigate our return to school normalcy after a few unpredictable years, it is vitally important that we are able to keep track of student unexcused absences in an effort to reduce our student truancy.

Parents, please call our main office ahead of any known student absences and the morning of any student absences due to illness. This makes it much easier to track which students are skipping class and which students are missing class for a legitimate reason.

Students who skip class are being issued consequences for their truancy. It makes it much more difficult to manage our system when parents are calling in to clear excuse attendance after students have been absent.
