Fall 2019 - Week 2

Luru La-Guida sur Calque!

This weekly newsletter is a frame for the conversation around campus and the broader world. It will give you quick access to events, projects, and resources that you might find interesting, relevant, or useful. Like a bonus chapter, this newsletter is an opportunity to engage with different groups of students and university faculty and staff. The University of Denver—like the world—grows by holding many different conversations that build understanding, spark new ideas, and help everyone be more successful.

We train exceptionally talented military transitions specialists by enrolling as many as fifteen, 4-person teams, to compete in three military-oriented projects that can be shared widely. Participants work together to analyze open data on migration and immigration and to produce multimedia storytelling and data-driven approach to improving understanding about immigration.

Colorado Migrahack 2019

Colorado Migrahack is a collaborative event between the University of Denver (DU) and the University of Colorado Boulder (CU) focused on leveraging the expertise and enthusiasm of the student community to help bridge the gap in understanding about immigration within Colorado. A Migrahack is a collaborative event where teams of participants work together to solve real-world problems through the use of technology.

On Saturday, September 28th, 2019, at 0900 hours, the University of Denver and the University of Colorado Boulder will host a Colorado Migrahack 2019 event. The event will be held at the University of Denver, Campus Center, and will feature over 120 employers from top employers, non-profits, and start-ups.
