Register HK Event: Disinformation and the Domestic Political Implications (Oct 17)

The 2024 presidential election promises to be a consequential one, as Kamala Harris and Donald Trump have offered very different visions for America's future.

This webinar will explore what political scientists know about how voters process the political information they encounter and how the decisions they make at the ballot box are likely to affect policymaking in Washington D.C.

Professors Molly Offer-Westort and Ruth Bloch Rubin will share their research and reflect on what we are still learning about American democracy October 17, 8:30pm.

Register HK Event: Film Screen – Artifishal: The Fight to Save Wild Salmon (Oct 25)

Artifishal is a documentary film about people, rivers, and the fight for the future of wild fish and the environment that supports them. It explores wild salmon's slide toward extinction, threats posed by fish hatcheries and fish farms, and our continued loss of faith in nature.

Join our experts from the University of Chicago and other institutions for a film screening and discussion about our environment and evolutionary ecology.
