Since 2002, the Community Health Symposium at Stanford School of Medicine has served to shine a light on the work of Stanford students, residents, staff, and faculty members to underscore the impact of health disparities and to advance the field of community health. The symposium is an opportunity to come together and build new partnerships, and to foster collaboration, conversation and idea sharing.

The symposium will be held on Wednesday, March 23, 2022, from 4-6:30 PM PT, at the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center.
