Civic Leadership Through Up to Us

The Washington Monthly was created to give college students a voice in the civic leadership space. It is an annual competition that provides select teams from colleges and universities across the U.S. with the training and funds to run tailored campus campaigns to educate their peers on the fiscal challenges that face the next generation.

Fall Community Service Fair

Meet and learn from community organizations and find a cause, organization, or find a project that you are passionate about and can get involved with.

Apply to the Raise Up GW Co-Curricular Certificate program! This program allows students to support and lead community organizations while expanding their knowledge of well-being, identify ways in which well-being plays an integral role in their success at GW, and gain knowledge of on-campus well-being services. Interested students should apply now.

Apply to the Civic Leadership Certificate program! This program is hosted by the Nashman Center and provides an opportunity for GW students to strengthen their civic leadership knowledge and skills across the Pathways of Public Service and Civic Engagement.

The GWTeach Program provides you with the opportunity to teach local students—classes are open to all undergraduates! Students who are GWTeach students can find out more.

CGI U is now inviting student social innovators to apply to the CGI-U Challenge.

Applications will be accepted through.
