

Celebrating Success!

Thank you!

As another school year draws to a close, we want to say "Thank you!" to all of the administrators, teachers, partners, and parents who worked alongside us. Thank you for opening your schools and classrooms to welcome us in, and for opening your minds to ideas that are new to you. Thank you for your willingness to take risks, and to be reflective about your policies and practices. Thank you for your engagement, your questions, and your ongoing commitment to ensure that every child learns to read by third grade.

Send Us Your Success Stories

Have Literacy How's evidence-based professional development; Structured Literacy Series; mentoring and coaching; Knowledge to Practice Professional Learning Series of books; website, e-news or other communications informed your instruction and contributed to your success with students?

We'd love to hear more! In 250 words or fewer, describe how you've enhanced your knowledge and tweaked, supplemented, or overhauled your practice as the result of your learning from Literacy How. We'll enter your name into our 10th anniversary drawing for a chance to win a set of our Professional Learning Series books (including Comprehension: Knowledge to Practice, coming this fall) or lunch with Margie Gillis. On September 9, we'll be picking winners! Click here for details.
