CINA Annual RFP Now Open for Submissions

The 2021 CINA Annual RFP now accepts proposals that address the core mission of CINA to advance knowledge on crime using digital tools, and prepares both homeland security and law enforcement professionals for the forefront of crime prevention, preparedness, and response.

News to unveil its new Forensic Science Research and Training Laboratory

The State of Virginia has committed $10 million to build the new forensic science research and training laboratory for George Mason University. Today, its director, Christian Wells, accepted the funds.

The CINA mission is supported by three core activities: help DHS with current problems, think about the future, and train professionals in the field of forensic science and related sciences for years to come.
