Contents of this Month's Update

December

RESEARCH

Professor of Practice, William J. Perry Center for Hemispheric Policy, Distinguished Senior Fellow at the Center for Strategic and International Studies, and co-founder of the Professional MBA in Security Management at the Schar School, has announced his retirement from both George Mason University and the Center for Strategic and International Studies. Prof. Perry will now be focusing on his work as the founder of the National Cybersecurity Institute and the co-founder of the Center for Security Policy in Education.

University-wide Faculty

“Thank you for your warm and welcoming hospitality during your recent visit to George Mason. It was an honor to share the Center’s mission and initiatives with you.”

Diana Davis Spencer Foundation Awards $450,000 to Schar School for Innovation in Security Studies

Awards $450,000 to Schar School for Innovation in Security Studies

“Mason is fortunate to have her, and we look forward to the high quality programs and efforts that Deanna Austin will bring to the center.”

CINA Recruits Deanna Austin

Innovative Digital Tools DHS Partnership Fights Cyber Crime With

Submit your proposal. Submissions will be accepted through January 29, 2021.

CINA's 2021 Annual RFP invites proposals that will address main challenges represented by the four research themes of the CINA Network:

- Fraud and Money Laundering
- Cybercrime
- Human Rights
- Transnational Organized Crime

The CINA 2021 Annual RFP is now open for submissions. Visit www.cina.gmu.edu/rfp to submit your proposal. Submissions will be accepted through January 29, 2021. The CINA 2021 Annual RFP recognizes the importance of interdisciplinary research and knowledge. Submit your proposal for the opportunity to support research and knowledge in the field.

NEWS

CINA, the George Mason University Center for Intelligence and National Security Studies, is pleased to announce the opening of the George Mason University's new Forensic Science and Research Laboratory. The laboratory, located in Fairfax, Virginia, will be the center for the study of forensic science and related sciences for years to come.

CINA, the George Mason University Center for Intelligence and National Security Studies, is pleased to announce the opening of the George Mason University's new Forensic Science and Research Laboratory. The laboratory, located in Fairfax, Virginia, will be the center for the study of forensic science and related sciences for years to come.

CINA's 2021 Annual RFP Now Open for Submissions

The CINA 2021 Annual RFP invites proposals that will address main challenges represented by the four research themes of the CINA Network:

- Fraud and Money Laundering
- Cybercrime
- Human Rights
- Transnational Organized Crime

The CINA 2021 Annual RFP is now open for submissions. Visit www.cina.gmu.edu/rfp to submit your proposal. Submissions will be accepted through January 29, 2021. The CINA 2021 Annual RFP recognizes the importance of interdisciplinary research and knowledge. Submit your proposal for the opportunity to support research and knowledge in the field.

CINA Distinguished Speaker Series: Winter 2021 Upcoming Events

Speaker: Matthew J. Turman, Częstochowa University of Technology, Department of Management, will speak on the topic of cybersecurity.

The CINA Distinguished Speaker Series is a series of events that brings together leading experts in the field of intelligence and national security studies. The series features speakers from around the world who share their knowledge and insights on topics ranging from cybersecurity to intelligence operations.

CINA Distinguished Speaker Series: Winter 2021 Upcoming Events

Speaker: Matthew J. Turman, Częstochowa University of Technology, Department of Management, will speak on the topic of cybersecurity.

The CINA Distinguished Speaker Series is a series of events that brings together leading experts in the field of intelligence and national security studies. The series features speakers from around the world who share their knowledge and insights on topics ranging from cybersecurity to intelligence operations.

Diana Davis Spencer Foundation Awards $450,000 to Schar School for Innovation in Security Studies

Awards $450,000 to Schar School for Innovation in Security Studies

“Mason is fortunate to have her, and we look forward to the high quality programs and efforts that Deanna Austin will bring to the center.”

CINA Recruits Deanna Austin

Innovative Digital Tools DHS Partnership Fights Cyber Crime With

Submit your proposal. Submissions will be accepted through January 29, 2021.

CINA's 2021 Annual RFP invites proposals that will address main challenges represented by the four research themes of the CINA Network:

- Fraud and Money Laundering
- Cybercrime
- Human Rights
- Transnational Organized Crime

The CINA 2021 Annual RFP is now open for submissions. Visit www.cina.gmu.edu/rfp to submit your proposal. Submissions will be accepted through January 29, 2021. The CINA 2021 Annual RFP recognizes the importance of interdisciplinary research and knowledge. Submit your proposal for the opportunity to support research and knowledge in the field.