What are we learning from the election results?
by Dean Fernando R. Miralles-Wilhelm

(1) It is a much closer race than any side expected or wanted. We are a deeply polarized country; some say that is not a good thing.
(2) We all are taking a dose of patience and waiting for all votes to be counted. I know this is a lot to ask; respected following the basic premise, “If you voted, your vote should be counted,” (regardless of who
(3) The USA is a union of states. Each state has their own rules and they are being followed and it creates anxiety. Yet, it is our democracy at work.
(4) Let me say this again: this is a very close race. This means we all have friends, family, neighbors, respected following the basic premise, “If you voted, your vote should be counted,” (regardless of who

A few reflections on the morning after Election Day…and the path forward.

What are we learning from the election results?

MASON SCIENCE COMMUNITY

Online speaker at National Academy of Sciences

Lyme disease: Leading the fight against a chronic disease in the US.

RESEARCH & DISCOVERY

Leading the fight against Lyme disease

IN THE NEWS

The Telegraph (UK) highlights potential antibiotic from Komodo dragon blood

Events

More Information

© 2020 George Mason University

Full story

Read more reflections

Stay Connected

#FacultyFriday highlights

Message from the Dean

Stay Connected

Mathematical Sciences and Weather: Illustrating the Impacts of the National Academy of Sciences (NAS) on Atmospheric, Oceanic and Earth Science

DelSole speaks at National Academy of Sciences

Microbiology Journal Club - Dr. Fatah Kashanchi

Hands-On Workshop: Deep Learning in MATLAB

Galileo's Science Cafe: COVID-19 Myth Busters

Tuesday, December 8, 2020 | 2 to 3:30 p.m.

Save the Date: College of Science Virtual Celebration of Success for all faculty and staff

Hands-On Workshop: Deep Learning in MATLAB

Thursday, November 19, 2020 | 7 to 9 p.m.

Galileo's Science Cafe: COVID-19 Myth Busters

Tuesday, November 10, 2020 | Noon to 1 p.m.

Friday, November 6, 2020 | 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Microbiology Journal Club - Dr. Fatah Kashanchi

Friday, November 6, 2020 | 10 to 11 a.m.

Human Resources and Student Health Services offers the on-campus flu clinic last opportunity for Faculty and staff.

Human Resources and Student Health Services offers the on-campus flu clinic last opportunity for Faculty and staff.

Mason will again recognize outstanding faculty with the Presidential Awards for Faculty Excellence. These awards are designed to honor the recipient faculty for their excellence in teaching, research and scholarship. Award nomination forms can be found here. Nominations are invited from across the entire Mason community through January 8, 2021.

To recommend a faculty member, please submit a letter of nomination to facaward@gmu.edu. The letter should describe the nominee’s accomplishments specific to the relevant criteria. Questions about the nomination process should be addressed to Brian Platt, Brian.Platt@gmu.edu.

To end Breast Cancer Awareness month, our Faculty Friday highlights an opportunity to get your flu shot for this year. Faculty and staff are invited to participate in the state’s free flu shot Clinics. Fully vaccinated faculty and staff are encouraged to attend the on-campus flu clinic on Friday, November 6, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Students who have insurance through the state can sign up for a flu shot at their next visit to Student Health Services. Mason Human Resources and Student Health Services offers the on-campus flu clinic this Friday. For students with Medicare, the state flu clinics cannot be used.

Emanuel “Chip” Petricoin

Emanuel “Chip” Petricoin

Alessandra Luchini

by John Hollis

Lyme disease

Leading the fight against a chronic disease in the US.

A few reflections on the morning after Election Day…and the path forward.

What are we learning from the election results?