Words of Wisdom

As I can personally attest, there is nothing more academically enriching than learning in another part of the world. This summer, LSU students are taking classes across four continents, in countries such as the United Kingdom, Greece, and South Africa. This experience provides a unique opportunity for our students to learn from faculty who are widely recognized as international experts in their fields. Your Tiger will have the ability to get practical, hands-on experience in their field, unmatched opportunities for our students.
