LSU Parent & Family Programs looks forward to a wonderful year together with your family. Please take a minute to fill out your family information in myProxy. Here you’ll find a quick guide to help address the important information you will need to can do to open doors to success for your student.

Words of Wisdom

As I can personally attest, there is nothing more academically enriching than study abroad. In Envy International’s 2019 College Bound Students Study Abroad Survey, 30% of students who participated in study abroad programs reported that they would have made different academic decisions if they had not participated in an international program. Since 2001, LSU has experienced a 171% increase in study abroad participation. Participating in a study abroad program can change the course of a student’s academic career. For example, LSU students are able to meet the dreams of high school students and future parents through research fellowships and professional internships. If your Tiger isn’t taking advantage of these programs now, I hope that you’ll talk to them about taking the plunge soon.
