In support of the upcoming holy month of Ramadan, Tufts Hillel will present "Ramadan: A Conversation with Sahera R. Ahsan". This conversation, with Sahera Ahsan, the Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences and a prominent scholar of Islamic Studies, will explore the richness of Islamic practices and traditions, and provide insights on how to navigate this unique time in the Muslim community. Sahera Ahsan's expertise will guide us through the experiences of fasting during Ramadan, the spiritual and cultural significance of the month, and how to engage Tufts students around the intersectional issues of housing injustice in our Somerville and Medford communities. Despite how we perceive our own capacity for courageousness, I pray we grow emotionally and spiritually and diligent in what benefits you, seek God's aid, and do not tire.

Through our diligent conscientiousness about our bodily consumptions, we have opportunity for this work. Through our diligent conscientiousness about our bodily consumptions, we have Every evening during Ramadan, Muslims break the fast with a special meal called iftar. In this section this week, we highlight events and gatherings that observe this beautiful tradition. We will provide dates and locations for these events as they become available.
