FERNANDO R. MIRALLES-WILHELM

MORE

by Fernando Miralles-Wilhelm

At the start of the semester, life always seems so hectic. And, combined with the pandemic, one could easily feel somewhat overwhelmed. Here's a helpful guide for focusing your mind as you enter this busy time of year.

This interesting framework my colleague suggested we use to start the semester can allow you some introspection. You can't do everything or be everything at once, yet with this exercise, you can keep your goals and aspirations in front of you in a manageable, motivational way.

There are four steps:

1. List your MOREs.
2. Review and select them daily/weekly/monthly (you control the timing).
3. Reflect on your progress.
4. Add or remove your goals as needed.

Think of it as a simple fill in the blank exercise:

Be MORE _____

Do MORE _____

No MORE _____

Start by finding a quiet place and give yourself time to really think about each 'MORE.' Then make your list. Collect your aspirations in a place that's easy for you to review them on a regular basis. Make your MOREs visible.
