A Message from the Department Chair

Dr. Suzanne Boyd

Welcome back to the start of a new semester! The department has been keeping busy and valuable resources have been updated on our department website.

Please note that it is mandatory that event forms be submitted at least one week prior to the event. Without the proper form being submitted, the event may not be advertised.

Instructors, if you require special use of a Departmental or campus owned classroom or computer lab, you must first complete the Online Request Forms available on our department website.

Finally, please mark your calendars now - the annual Marden colloquium will be given by Professor Ridgway Scott of the University of Chicago on Friday, April 10.
