to facilitate information sharing among researchers, practitioners, and relevant local, national, business and organizations—so that, together, we can more effectively address the world's challenges.

The Symposium will convene key stakeholders to explore the skills, knowledge and attitudes required for the transition to Adulthood and Factors Impacting Well-being in Uzbekistan. The aim of the Symposium is to synthesize the latest knowledge and evidence on youth development in Uzbekistan, with a focus on the transition to adulthood and the barriers to successful transition. The Symposium will bring together researchers, practitioners, policymakers, and civil society organizations to discuss the challenges facing young people in Uzbekistan and to identify potential solutions.

The Symposium will take place on March 10-12, 2020, at the African Development Bank Headquarters in Abidjan, Côte d'Ivoire. The event is open to all interested parties, including academics, practitioners, policymakers, and civil society organizations. There is no registration fee, but early registration is encouraged to ensure a place at the event.

The Symposium will feature a series of plenary sessions, panel discussions, and workshops. These sessions will cover a range of topics, including the transition to adulthood, youth employment, social protection, and capacity building.

We look forward to your continued engagement in 2020. This newsletter will not be issued on December 25. Wishing you and yours a wonderful holiday break.
