August 2022

Redtail Speak now offers Broadcast Messaging!

We are pleased to announce that one of the top requests of Redtail Speak subscribers is now available on the platform. You now have the ability to send one text message to multiple clients (bulk text messaging) which displays as an individual text message for each recipient.

Along with this capability we have also introduced the feature to bulk invite your contacts to text with you (again, displaying as an individual message for each recipient).
