REACHING FOR THE STARS

2019 COLLEGE PROFILE

Reaching for the Stars, our latest College of Science Profile magazine, includes stories about alumni engagement, groundbreaking research, and a special introduction from the Dean.

STUDENT HIGHLIGHTS

The fifth annual Tigers on Call, which will be held Nov. 1 in the Hendrix Student Center, will match current students who are interested in pursuing careers in health care with Clemson alumni and friends in these fields.

SCIENCE NEWS

Biological sciences junior Shaoni Dasgupta and biochemistry junior Nate Matzko are the first two Clemson undergraduates to be chosen as Beckman Scholars, a prestigious honor that provides mentored laboratory research experiences.
