SCIENCE partners on T.I.G.E.R. Field Day

T.I.G.E.R. Field Day is an opportunity for students and the public to learn about the wonders of the natural world. During this event, participants can explore the Bob Campbell Museum of Natural History, view reptiles like an anole and chameleon, learn about snakes in South Carolina, and more. Field Day is free and open to the public, so children, adults, and families are welcome.

Give Day to bring together Clemson Family on April 3

Give Day is an energetic, 24-hour focus on giving for alumni, parents, staff, and students. It is an opportunity to support the University's greatest needs and show your love for Clemson. This year's Give Day will be held on April 3.

Prominent scientist to speak at Clemson on April 12

Marcus Feldman, the Burnet C. and Mildred Finley Wohlford Professor of Biological Sciences and Director of the Morrison Institute for Population and Resource Studies at Stanford University, will give a public lecture on April 12 from 2:30-4:45 p.m. in the Watt Family Innovation Center Auditorium.

Feldman’s talk will focus on mathematical and computer modeling techniques for evolutionary studies. For more information, contact Miriam Konkel at mkonkel@clemson.edu.

Miss Clemson

Morgan Nichols is a senior in the College of Science’s department of genetics and biochemistry and was recently named Miss Clemson. Her platform “Stronger with STEM” inspires students to stick with STEM through exploration, education, and innovation.

College of Science

The College of Science is committed to providing students with opportunities to present research or study abroad. Faculty, staff, alumni, friends, and students give back to Clemson on April 12.
