

APPLICANT EMAIL

SEPTEMBER 12, 2016

This email discusses:

*Financing your education

How will you pay for this?

It's not too early to start researching how financial aid works and what options are available to help you finance this educational undertaking.

Start with these websites:

https://www.aamc.org/services/first/first_factsheets/358558/applicants.html

<http://www.aacom.org/become-a-doctor/financial-aid>

http://www.adea.org/GoDental/Money_Matters.aspx

This was just the lead article in the Premed Navigator newsletter that AAMC publishes:

<https://students-residents.aamc.org/financial-aid/article/budgeting-pay-medical-school/>

In addition our own medical school's financial aid website has lots of information:

<http://medicine.tufts.edu/About-Us/Administrative-Offices/Office-of-Financial-Aid>

Be aware of the Health Professions Scholarship Program offered by all three branches of the Armed Services – Army, Navy and Air Force. From a financial point of view it is the best deal around but of course you want to consider all aspects of this commitment.
