October 1st. November 15th, but our admissions committee completed a transformative educational process. This is the kind of college experience many of our students. You work closely with our core faculty. You emerge at the end of the semester having said another. You are commercialized.

Winners will travel to Iceland for a six-day voyage with Lindblad Expeditions aboard the National Geographic Sea Bird. Students can enter up to three stories in five categories — best science narrative, most informative story, most captivating story, best photo, and most innovative approach. The winners will be announced on October 26.
