Uganda Lions Set Long-Distance Swim Record

A couple of lions in Uganda recently made global headlines by achieving an incredible long-distance swimming record that most folks — even big cat researchers and experts — thought impossible.

According to the New York Times, the feat was accomplished by a couple of male lions (brothers Tibu and Jacob) last February, who after losing a battle for territory inside Queen Elizabeth National Park, decided to seek a new home by swimming roughly a mile across the hippo and crocodile filled Kazinga Channel.

Best Time to Visit the Mara?

While visiting Kenya's Masai Mara National Reserve — and staying at the upcoming JW Marriott safari lodge — are awesome at any time of year, there are seasons and annual events that make the park even more extraordinary.

The Great Migration of more than two million animals — wildebeest, zebra and other grazers tailed by lions, hyenas and other predators — slowly makes its way through the Mara between July and October/November in search of fresh grass.

It's Not All About Freetown

Here are four other fascinating cities you should visit in Sierra Leone.

Kabala

Quiet and cool, the northern town of Kabala is perhaps most famous for its New Year's celebrations on the imposing Gbawuria Hill, which looms over the town. Nearby Senekedugu village is a must-stop for visitors to get a window on how a local agricultural village is run.

Video of the Month

Visiting Mara Ngenche Safari Camp

Located in the heart of the Masai Mara is the small, intimate, luxurious and elegant Mara Ngenche Safari Camp. Tucked into a ravine forest, the camp offers superb views over the confluence of the Mara and Talek rivers overlooking a hippo pool that's always busy.

The incredible surroundings of the Maasai Mara make this a spectacular safari experience. Game drives are always thrilling, guided by expert local Masai guides in open-sided 4x4s (with a maximum of six guests per vehicle).
