March 2025

Dear Colleague,

This Saskatchewan girl is on the road again!

Last week, I was fortunate enough to attend the Educational Travel Conference in Mobile, Alabama, where I made some great connections with some inspirational people. This week, I have events tomorrow night (Thursday, March 27th) in St. Louis and a lunch event on Friday in Kansas City. Let me know if you're in or near either of those cities and want to attend our events.

On a personal note, I'm heading to Turkey and Malta next week for a well-deserved vacation! While not African-related, I'm incredibly excited to explore those fascinating destinations. Looking ahead to May, I'll be attending both the We Are Africa Conference and Indaba Conference. In between I'm visiting the stunning Garonga Safari Co properties and spending several days experiencing the GVI Expeditions South African camps. Let me know if I will see you there!

Big news from Yadi Travel in Morocco — Delta is launching its first-ever direct flights from Atlanta to Marrakech starting October 25, 2025. This game-changing route will operate three times weekly, making Morocco more accessible than ever for U.S. travelers.
