Rearranging class schedules in order to provide time off for the 2020 General Election.

Dear Colleagues,

We hope you and your loved ones are safe and well. With the election season approaching, we are writing to offer a few timely reminders.

First, thank you for your continued efforts to support undergraduate inside and outside of this classroom. We have students across campus who have lost loved ones due to illness, and have taken on new caregiving responsibilities. Some have been abroad and have had to engage and continue their support in all platforms. We are proud of our faculty and hope you all continue to support and engage with our students.

Of course, managing the stress of the compressed, uncertain, and uniquely challenging semester has been difficult for all. As we approach the end of the term, we hope you’ll find the information and reminders offered below to be helpful and timely.

Faculty Wellness and Resources

- Student Wellness Resources: Duke offers a variety of resources to support faculty wellness. The DukeReach website includes information and resources for students, faculty, and staff. As always, if you are concerned about a specific student for any reason, DukeReach can provide you with additional resources to help connect that student with a trained professional. DukeStudents can sign up at the website above using the service key www.duke.edu/DukeReach. The DukeReach website offers options: TalkNow (24/7, talk about anything) and Scheduled Counseling. TalkNow connects you with a licensed professional who offers assessment, short-term counseling, and referrals to help resolve a range of personal, work, and family issues. Scheduled Counseling is available by phone and video through DukeReach.

- Personal Assistance Service (PAS): In just two clicks, students can select one of two types of trained wellness representatives to talk with at any time, day or night. These options are open to all undergraduates and are available 24/7. Please don’t forget that any voter eligible to vote in Durham County can vote in-person at the Duke-funded support center located in the West Duke Lobby. There are two locations for early in-person voting available in Durham County: the Early Vote Center at the Durham Basketball Complex on Cameron Village and at the Early Vote Center at the Student Union at Duke University. screenshot/alt.jpg

- Duke Votes: Want to vote but don’t know where, when, and how to vote via a mail in ballot or in person? Dukepolling.com is the faculty/employee registration website, which allows members to register to vote. The website includes information for students, faculty and staff, as well as online voting. screenshot/alt.jpg

As a reminder, classes are scheduled to take place on November 3 and 4. President Price’s recent message noted that faculty have the flexibility to make arrangements regarding coursework and scheduling, if you have students who have been abroad and have taken on new caregiving responsibilities. Some have been abroad and have taken on new caregiving responsibilities.

For most of our undergraduates, this election is the first Presidential election in which they will vote, and it has been remarkable to see the growth and development of student engagement around voting this fall. We expect that many of our students will participate in the voting process, and we encourage you to take steps that support student participation in the democratic process.
