January Faculty Spotlight

January 2023 Faculty Spotlight:

Dr. Elisabeth Schussler

Dr. Elisabeth Schussler, Professor of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology and 2022-2023 Faculty Senate President, believes in getting students curious enough that they will not only remember class material but also explore more biological topics that interest them after they leave her class. Read her bio to learn about all the ways she is re-shaping the biology classroom, at the link below.

Life Long Learning Book Club

Monday, February 13th | 1:00pm – 2:00 pm | Zoom | Registration Link

About this Workshop

- UT Libraries, the Department of Psychology, and Teaching and Learning Innovation invite anyone from UT to participate in the Lifelong Learning Book Club this Spring 2023 semester. This upcoming Spring 2023 semester, we will be reading Relationship-Rich Education: How Human Connections Drive Success in College By Peter Felten & Leo M. Lambert. Dr. Felten will be the keynote speaker at the 2023 Innovative Teaching and Learning Conference hosted by TLI on March 23rd, 2023. This is a great opportunity to become familiar with his work. He may also attend one of the book club sessions! This book club aims to promote a community of support around lifelong learning for teachers and students a like. So faculty, staff, and students are all welcome!
 - To access the book and learn more about this workshop, visit The UTK Libraries Website.

Artificial Intelligence in the Classroom

TLI, along with several other offices and units across the university, recognize the growing interest in artificial intelligence and its many consequential impacts it might have on teaching and learning on all levels. Therefore, we have developed this webpage as a resource for faculty members, graduate students, and members of our campus community to use in order to learn more about this topic, and how to successfully navigate it and/or harness it to enhance the classes that you teach.
