Reflections of One Year of COVID-19 at CIRAS

On February 13, 2020, I sent an email to the CIRAS leadership team about this thing called Coronavirus hitting China. Here is how it ended:

— Mike O’Donnell, Director

On that day, the number of confirmed cases was 50. Today, that number is 7.8 million and climbing. At that time, we had no idea what we were in for. We didn’t know about shutdowns, the repercussions could extend for a seriously long period. Depending on the length of time and how long it took before countries began reopening, inventories could dry up. Depending on the length of time and how long it took before countries began reopening, depending on the length of time and how long it took before countries began reopening, there was moderate to significant impact will happen soon.

To help you focus on the future, CIRAS is launching a new Business Resiliency webinar series. Here are just a few of the ways we plan to do this:

1. From the importance of understanding their supply chains to the strengths they possess to compete in the future
2. To what extent technology in Iowa manufacturing industry competitive.

The CIRAS leadership team about this thing called Coronavirus hitting China. Here is how it ended:

— Mike O’Donnell, Director

On February 13, 2020, I sent an email to the CIRAS leadership team about this thing called Coronavirus hitting China. Here is how it ended:

— Mike O’Donnell, Director

On February 13, 2020, I sent an email to the CIRAS leadership team about this thing called Coronavirus hitting China. Here is how it ended:

— Mike O’Donnell, Director

On February 13, 2020, I sent an email to the CIRAS leadership team about this thing called Coronavirus hitting China. Here is how it ended:

— Mike O’Donnell, Director

On February 13, 2020, I sent an email to the CIRAS leadership team about this thing called Coronavirus hitting China. Here is how it ended:

— Mike O’Donnell, Director

On February 13, 2020, I sent an email to the CIRAS leadership team about this thing called Coronavirus hitting China. Here is how it ended:

— Mike O’Donnell, Director

On February 13, 2020, I sent an email to the CIRAS leadership team about this thing called Coronavirus hitting China. Here is how it ended:

— Mike O’Donnell, Director

On February 13, 2020, I sent an email to the CIRAS leadership team about this thing called Coronavirus hitting China. Here is how it ended:

— Mike O’Donnell, Director

On February 13, 2020, I sent an email to the CIRAS leadership team about this thing called Coronavirus hitting China. Here is how it ended:

— Mike O’Donnell, Director

On February 13, 2020, I sent an email to the CIRAS leadership team about this thing called Coronavirus hitting China. Here is how it ended:

— Mike O’Donnell, Director

On February 13, 2020, I sent an email to the CIRAS leadership team about this thing called Coronavirus hitting China. Here is how it ended:

— Mike O’Donnell, Director