Dr. Stuart Wolf, Jr.
Surgery and Perioperative Care

“Despite the corporatization of medicine, despite the risks for overwork, moral injury and burnout, practicing medicine is still the greatest job in the world,” asserts Dr. Stuart Wolf. “Every day you get to walk side by side with people who are navigating great human struggles. It’s a gift to be able to participate in this.”

Dr. Wolf has been on both sides of the scalpel. He recently had major heart surgery—and the experience has inspired him to take up a new pastime. “Thanks to my newly repaired heart, my favorite pastime currently is making sure that Dr. Kessler’s great handiwork is not for naught, so I am training to run a 5K. The picture above shows my sternotomy scar 8 days after a 5-vessel CABG.” Read more.

Medicare Action Alert!

Act Now. Contact your U.S. representative and senators and tell them how a new proposed 2.8% pay cut – on top of all the other Medicare pay cuts to physicians over time – will affect your practice and your patients.

Congress must act to stop the proposed pay cut and support the bipartisan House Resolution 2474 to reform Medicare's broken payment system and ensure physicians receive inflationary updates like hospitals and other Medicare providers receive.

It takes just seconds to send a powerful message to Congress. Washington doesn't think another cut matters, but we know otherwise. Please TELL YOUR STORY.

Decades of Medicare pay cuts are negatively impacting physician practice viability. This diminishes access to care for ALL patients.

We must ensure our seniors are cared for with the highest standard of care. We must develop a permanent, viable Medicare physician payment system.

Please act now.
