News from the Fence

CMU Portugal Summit 2020: 10 June | Lisbon

This year, the CMU Portugal Summit takes place in Lisbon on June 10. In addition to the keynotes, networking events and lectures, the Summit will feature workshops and panel discussions, creating opportunities to learn from and connect with experts in the field. If you're interested in attending, please register here: CMU Portugal Summit 2020.

In the Media:

Jodi Forlizzi, Carnegie Mellon University, School of Computer Science, and Yvonne Rogers, UCL, are two brilliant designers and psychologists, respectively, who gave a talk entitled “Beyond User-Centered Design” at Instituto Superior Técnico on December 18th. Nuno Nunes, CMU Portugal National Co-Director, opened the seminar, powered by LARSyS, INESC ID, and CMU Portugal. The seminar included invited guests, Professor Jeffrey Bigham from the Human Computer Interaction Institute at Carnegie Mellon University (CMU), USA and Professor Adriana Vivacqua from Federal University of Rio de Janeiro (UFRJ), Brazil.

Inside Story: Andreia Mordido’s experience as a CMU Portugal Visiting Faculty & Researcher

Andreia Mordido, Invited Assistant Professor at Faculdade de Ciências da Universidade de Lisboa (FCUL), was hosted in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania as part of the CMU Portugal Visiting Faculty & Researchers Program. Andreia spent much of her time exploring the community of programming languages, and more specifically, the research group at CMU惭愧 of Computer Science led by Professor Frank Pfenning. Her stay was very insightful and helpful and rewarding. (Andreia Mordido)

Notícias ao Minuto

Two CMU Portugal Alumni joined Professor Luís Caires from the NOVA University of Lisbon, and Professor João Paulo Cunha from the University of Aveiro, João Paulo Cunha from the University of Porto, Luís Caires from the NOVA University of Lisbon, and Professor José Jerónimo Rodrigues and his Ph.D. Supervisor, Takeo Kanade, at the meeting between Dual Degree PhD Graduate in Electrical and Computer Engineering (ECE), José Jerónimo Rodrigues and his Ph.D. Supervisor, Takeo Kanade in Tokyo. The meeting between Dual Degree PhD Graduate in ECE, José Jerónimo Rodrigues and his Ph.D. Supervisor, Takeo Kanade in Tokyo was as an example of the lasting relationships created under the CMU Portugal Program.

Economist and author of ‘Uncertainty in Climate Science’, Professor Robert P. Kopp, has received the 2020 ICTP-Africa Young Scientist Prize. Kopp was recognized for his contributions to the development of tools for understanding the economic impacts of climate change. The award comes with a cash prize of $15,000.

The meeting between Dual Degree PhD Graduate in ECE, José Jerónimo Rodrigues and his Ph.D. Supervisor, Takeo Kanade in Tokyo was as an example of the lasting relationships created under the CMU Portugal Program.

Twente University and CUHK Shenzhen University have signed a letter of intent to establish a collaboration network that will foster the exchange of students, researchers and faculty. The collaboration will focus on areas such as artificial intelligence, robotics, and bioinformatics.

Upcoming events

CMU Portugal Publications

Papers

- Pio D., Tarelho L., Tavares A.,...