This semester, Ms. Eichen is a mentor for GTCH 3103: Project-Based Learning. Though doing, but never really got around to. It has also really challenged me to think outside the box and become more creative. I know that even when we go back, there are a lot of missing areas that I would have really loved to cover but never got when it all worked out. I also loved seeing those “lightbulb” moments, of how to use play-doh to explain concepts. "One of my favorite things as a teacher, was seeing a lesson playout successfully and how excited the GWTeach students were. Sometimes, it was like watching their GWTeacher for the first time!" Ms. Eichen states. "My students kept asking when their GWTeacher was going to teach! I was like, ‘Oh, my God!’ What a great question!"

"I have the most supportive master teachers and UTeach became like a big family," states Ms. Eichen. "I had the most supportive master teachers and UTeach became like a big family. It was like, ‘Okay, let’s get ready for new ideas and methods to bring to her classroom."

"Distance Learning has certainly had its challenging moments, but at the same time, I have the most supportive master teachers and UTeach became like a big family."
