A Note from the President

Dear Tiger Families,

November is National Career Month! Let’s Celebrate…

As an LSU Family, the Olinde Career Center encourages students to become more civically engaged. Our Tiger families often have former students who are a “Tiger launching a Tiger.” The voices of these former Tiger alums are powerful in connecting our current students to the importance of civic engagement and civic-mindedness.

It is in the spirit of these Tiger alumni that LSU Leadership and the Olinde Career Center are excited to bring to our University the LSU Student Governor’s Fellowship. This Fellowship is a new opportunity for undergraduate students to help their peers and be involved in civic activities. During my term at the LSU Governor’s Office, I had the opportunity to meet with LSU students and hear their voices and educational experiences. I was inspired by the desire of the students to be involved in such a way that their voice resonated and brought the voice of the University forward. This is why we are excited to bring this fellowship to our LSU community.

Making new opportunities available to our students is the driving force behind the Olinde Career Center. So, our campus highlights of the month are:
