Biometric Identity Privacy

A person’s identity can be national, biographical or social. A person’s identity is powerful way of verifying their identity, whether through voice, person’s physical characteristics or biometrics are an increasingly powerful way of verifying their identity, whether through voice, person’s physical characteristics or biometrics. It is an increasingly powerful way of verifying their identity. Whether through voice, person’s physical characteristics or biometrics. It is an increasingly powerful way of verifying their identity. Whether through voice, person’s physical characteristics or biometrics. It is an increasingly powerful way of verifying their identity. Whether through voice, person’s physical characteristics or biometrics.