Hello Spring!

Contributed by Emily Hurley

This year the first day of spring, or the spring equinox, takes place on March 20th. To some, equinoxes mark nothing more than seasons passing by. But to others, they were and still are an important time for celebration. Read on for more!

This month the Peabody is excited to investigate a variety of topics ranging from the different experiences of archaeologists to how indigenous people around the world have marked the spring equinox, and even the life story of W.K. Moorehead to celebrate his 155th birthday!
