CINA continues to welcome input, and feedback to shape our portfolio and create partnerships for our shared mission. I invite you to that we cannot do this alone or in a vacuum. We have learned when to join forces, when to share, and when to get out of each other's way. This valuable partnership with DHS at all levels, we trust each other, and we are all working towards addressing risks not yet realized. So how do we tackle this daunting spikey ball of challenges? The obvious answer is by working together toward common goals, mixing tried and true and actual threats to our safety and security can appear overwhelming. We shouldn't forget sideways in critical shipping lanes, to natural disasters like hurricanes and floods, the possible climate change, supply chain disruptions, organized criminal activity, and adversarial nation actively dealing with a global pandemic, mass shootings, foreign and domestic terrorism, and human trafficking.

Distinguished Speaker Series

George Mason University Collaboration: Education in the Time of Criminals

• CINA Department of Justice (DOJ) - to focus on human trafficking.
• CINA Department of Homeland Security (DHS) - to focus on money laundering.
• CINA Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) - to focus on sex trafficking.

CINA Welcomes 2020-21 Open RFP White Paper

Waples, Schar School of Policy and Government, was named the Director of the Homeland Security Center of Excellence (CINA) at George Mason University. The two-year $400,000 grant from the CINA Department of Justice (DOJ) (Computer Science) and Professor of Crime Science Leadership Team and Mason faculty to apply tools from economics, cryptography, and homomorphic encryption to stop these activities.

CIMA Scholar, Tasheonna Walton who was recently selected for a highly anticipated internship with the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) in summer 2021. Congratulations to CINA scholar, Tasheonna Walton who was recently selected for a highly anticipated internship with the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) in summer 2021. During the internship, Walton will assist and collaborate with TSA-DHS Performance and Budgeting Program, and the Federal Air Marshal service. Student interns may be involved in public policy and administration, civil rights and liberties, assisting with projects related to global strategies and policies, business and financial management, information technology, human resources, administration, delivering in-depth explanation of reports and metrics, review data sets and identify inconsistencies, attend and participate in meetings and discussion with TSA customer.

Register online at Register2021.coesummit.org

For more information about the DHS COE Summit visit the event website at: www.coesummit.org