Holding Grief, Activating Hope, spiritual and ethical issues in society and the world, and promote multifaith engagement.

Each of our associated chaplaincies composed an impressive summer/fall newsletter that also included footage of the senior Illumination. We were so glad to host this annual celebration.

The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Symposium

This summer, the University Chaplaincy is convening a reading and learning series for faculty members to dive deeper into the work and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. During the series, we will explore King’s powerful excerpt from the Rev. Dr. King’s speech at the March on Washington in 1963. Author, rights activist, lawyer, filmmaker, and educator Valarie Kaur will guide this series. Revolutionary Justice in the Somerville and Medford communities. It held space to reflect on our relationships to others.

The University Chaplaincy hosted Reverend Adam Russell Taylor, the Wendell Phillips Speaker, Atrey Bhargava, A21, and the University President, as well as new Baccalaureate Ceremony 2021

would you like to stay connected with other Tufts alumni and friends who are interested in spiritual and interfaith life and the work of the University Chaplaincy? If so, please

Interfaith Open Mic Night via Zoom in December 2020 and Sowing and Growing: An Interfaith An Interfaith Celebration of Food and Farming. And this May, the University Chaplaincy will host an Interfaith Friendship Program, offering a diverse array of spiritual practices. Participants committed to spending an hour each week with another participant and were paired with someone from a different religious and philosophical tradition. Several of our chaplains contributed to the Be-Friend: Interfaith Friendship Program

Every time I breathe, I know billions of people around me and in the past, because I know I'm not ever alone.

Talbert: 'When I first arrived at Tufts, ... it did feel a little lonely and was a

I wish you a summer of renewal and connection. I feel strong and connected in these moments, and it gives me hope comfort, and support we have provided each other this past year, from different religious and philosophical traditions. Several of our chaplains contributed to the Be-Friend: Interfaith Friendship Program

'Illuminating the Multifaith Campus' is a public art project that was created during our March 7 gathering.

opportunity to name losses, uplift our hopes, and renew our commitments. This multifaith,

A public art project was launched during our March 7 gathering to provide a visual and

The University Chaplaincy hosted Reverend Adam Russell Taylor, the Wendell Phillips Speaker, Atrey Bhargava, A21, and the University President, as well as new Baccalaureate Ceremony 2021

The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Symposium

This summer, the University Chaplaincy is convening a reading and learning series for faculty would you like to stay connected with other Tufts alumni and friends who are interested in spiritual and interfaith life and the work of the University Chaplaincy? If so, please

Interfaith Open Mic Night via Zoom in December 2020 and Sowing and Growing: An Interfaith An Interfaith Celebration of Food and Farming. And this May, the University Chaplaincy will host an Interfaith Friendship Program, offering a diverse array of spiritual practices. Participants committed to spending an hour each week with another participant and were paired with someone from a different religious and philosophical tradition. Several of our chaplains contributed to the Be-Friend: Interfaith Friendship Program

Every time I breathe, I know billions of people around me and in the past, because I know I'm not ever alone.

Talbert: 'When I first arrived at Tufts, ... it did feel a little lonely and was a

I wish you a summer of renewal and connection. I feel strong and connected in these moments, and it gives me hope

comfort, and support we have provided each other this past year, from different religious and philosophical traditions. Several of our chaplains contributed to the Be-Friend: Interfaith Friendship Program

'Illuminating the Multifaith Campus' is a public art project that was created during our March 7 gathering.

opportunity to name losses, uplift our hopes, and renew our commitments. This multifaith,