The Significance of SCIENCE

Dear Donor,

As we approach the end of this academic year, I am excited to share how the College of Science has made significant gains and improvements over the past year. Our students, faculty, and staff are dedicated to advancing our understanding of the world through research, teaching, and engagement. I am proud to share a few key points of pride:

- The College of Science has made significant gains in student success and faculty national prominence in many ways. And thanks to our alumni and friends for engaging with Clemson Science.
- The Significance of SCIENCE
- Students
- Faculty
- K-12 Engagement
- Awards

The University of SCIENCE

The College of Science has made significant gains in student success and faculty national prominence in many ways. And thanks to our alumni and friends for engaging with Clemson Science.

The Significance of SCIENCE

The Significance of SCIENCE

Students

Chemistry undergrad's marine products showcase skills honed at Clemson

Grant, a junior in the Department of Chemistry, is developing marine cosmetics that showcase her problem-solving skills and understanding of chemistry.

Faculty

Clemson researcher studies cancer in following through School of Health

Dr. Harry Shrestha, an associate professor in the Department of Biomedical Engineering, is studying cancer through the School of Health. His research focuses on understanding the genetic mutations that cause cancer and developing personalized treatments.

K-12 Engagement

"Something Very Fishy" takes new approach to deliver marine conservation awareness message

"Something Very Fishy" will go online this year. "Something Very Fishy" is a marine conservation educational program that is designed to engage elementary school students with the importance of protecting our oceans.

Awards

Meet the 2020 MLK Excellence in Service Award recipient, Sharetta Bufford

Bufford received the 2020 Martin Luther King Jr. Excellence in Service Award for her work in promoting diversity and inclusion in the College of Science.

Instead of having a live Broadway-like theatrical show which will be April 21! We ask you to consider a gift to the College of Science General Scholarship Fund, the Science Annual Fund or Science fund of your choosing. Gifts to the College of Science General Scholarship Fund, the Science Annual Fund or Science fund of your choosing. Gifts to the College of Science General Scholarship Fund, the Science Annual Fund or Science fund of your choosing. Gifts to the College of Science General Scholarship Fund, the Science Annual Fund or Science fund of your choosing.