At Lake Forest College, our entrepreneurs and innovators identify problems worth solving and develop solutions that are not only helpful but innovative. They are not just problem solvers; they are visionaries who imagine a better future and create products, services, and technologies that transform society.

Entrepreneurship is not just about starting a business; it's about using business principles to solve problems. It's about creating value and adding value to the world. Our entrepreneurship ecosystem is grounded in a community where students, faculty, and alumni work together to create a dynamic environment that fosters innovation, creativity, and entrepreneurship.
