At Lake Forest College, our entrepreneurs and innovators identify problems worth solving and mobilize the people, resources, and networks to solve them.

In partnership with Vox Media Studios and Vox, this enlightening explainer series will take viewers deep into the history of Black entrepreneurs and the stories behind their success.

In this class, we started a conversation with black women founders telling their true life stories that we change the narrative on who gets to become a successful entrepreneur, business founder, trailblazers, and changemakers.

We did our very best to stay quiet during the campus-wide quiet period, but you know we can’t stay quiet for long in ENTP. We have too much to share and celebrate...

In this episode: Cory Booker and others discuss how slavery, housing discrimination and centuries of cultural -- featuring interviews with some of the most authoritative experts in their respective fields. In partnership with Vox Media Studios and Vox, this enlightening explainer series will take viewers deep into the history of Black entrepreneurs and the stories behind their success.

Entrepreneur, business founder, innovator, and changemaker in America. The newest member of the ENTP team, and founder of Designs by Shomari Wills, is here to tell their story.

Join us for a one-day-only bricks-and-mortar pop-up shop featuring a diverse of local Lake County vendors. Our goal is to expand the networks and customer base of under-resourced and marginalized entrepreneurs. This inclusive retail experience is a joint venture with the Entrepreneurship and Innovation Program at Lake Forest College and the Gorton Community Relations.
