UC San Diego Financial Accounting Program

Composition of our Programs

The Financial Accounting Program offers a variety of courses to meet the needs of UC San Diego faculty, staff, students, and other organizations. Courses are offered at both the graduate and undergraduate levels, and are designed to provide a comprehensive understanding of financial accounting and reporting. The program is administered by the Office of the Controller, and includes courses in financial reporting, accounting principles, financial analysis, and budgeting.

Course Descriptions

The following courses are offered by the Financial Accounting Program:

- Financial Accounting: This course provides an overview of the basic principles of financial accounting, including the preparation of financial statements and the analysis of financial information.
- Managerial Accounting: This course covers the concepts and methods of managerial accounting, with a focus on decision-making and cost control.
- Financial Reporting and Analysis: This course covers the theory and practice of financial reporting and analysis, including the use of financial ratios and other tools for assessing the financial health of a business.
- Advanced Financial Accounting: This course covers advanced topics in financial accounting, such as the use of derivatives and other financial instruments.

Enrollment Information

Courses in the Financial Accounting Program are available to UC San Diego faculty and staff, as well as to external organizations. Enrollment requirements vary by course, and typically include prerequisites and a completed application.

Contact Information

For more information about the Financial Accounting Program, please contact the Office of the Controller at controller@ucsd.edu or (858) 534-2000.

Certification Programs

The Financial Accounting Program also offers certification programs in various areas of financial accounting, including:

- Certified Public Accountant (CPA)
- Certified Internal Auditor (CIA)
- Certified Management Accountant (CMA)
- Certified Financial Planner (CFP)

These certification programs require the completion of specific coursework and the passing of a comprehensive exam. For more information about certification programs, please contact the Office of the Controller at controller@ucsd.edu or (858) 534-2000.