Parting Shot

majors. The eighth annual Undergraduate Research Symposium Bigger Than Ever Operandi UROP has recently interviewed two undergraduate researchers as part of their regular series A Closer Look at Undergraduate Researchers

UROP Funding Opportunities

internal controls. Carrie Chesbro is the new Associate Director of Post Award. She has been serving as the Interim AD since Jon Loftus has been promoted to the newly developed Post-Award Manager position. Jon will be responsible

Staffing Updates

president for innovation. received, and the positive impact their contributions make worldwide,” said Chuck Williams, associate vice innovators, both past and present, for their groundbreaking work in research, the patents our inventors have “We’re proud to be a part of this organization, which will allow us to recognize and encourage the many UO chapter The University of Oregon celebrated the launch of the first (Summer Program for Undergraduate Research) student this summer. The workshop will discuss strategies work with us to share your research, email and interesting questions. You can follow along at OVPRI has started a new Instagram account featuring the daily research activities taking place across opportunities, proposal submission, research compliance, and contracts and grant administration.

administrative and financial support for sponsored programs, including identification of funding economic and civic vitality. The office is committed to enhancing these efforts by providing both basic and applied, is fundamental to the mission of the University and is essential to Oregon’s mentor to our students — not to mention one of the kindest people you will ever meet.

The

Academy of Arts and Sciences. Her remarkable accomplishments include pioneering research seeking to

I hope you will join me in congratulating our own Judith Eisen on her recent election into the American

Dear Members of the UO Research Community,

Oregon Research Quarterly – Spring 2018

Undergraduate Student Advocates for Research Funding

2018 UO environmental science student Rachel Cleveland recently traveled to Washington D.C. to attend

Undergraduate Research Symposium

May 17

May 28

Several Undergraduate Research Scholars were honored for their work this spring. This marks the third year the Undergraduate Research Symposium has been held, and this year’s symposium is bringing a record 382 student presenters to the OVPRI is now accepting nominations for the UO President’s Undergraduate Research Scholars (UORS) program. The UORS program is designed to recognize and support outstanding research activity among UO undergraduates.

Nominations opened January 15, 2018, and close April 6, 2018. Nominations for undergraduate researchers must be submitted by a faculty member or department chair. All UO undergraduates are eligible to apply for any UORS award except those who have been previously selected as a UORS winner.

Learn more about the UORS program and the nomination process on the Undergraduate Research website.

Oregon National Academy of Inventors (NAI) was founded in 2010 to recognize and encourage inventors with patents issued from the U.S.

The NAI was founded in 2010 to recognize and encourage inventors with patents issued from the U.S. government. It is a nonprofit organization open to any inventor, academic or business who holds or has applied for a U.S. patent,学术 or business who holds or has applied for a U.S. patent, or an inventor working at a nonprofit or university who is assigned a U.S. patent.

The purpose of the NAI is to recognize inventors for their work in producing innovations with significant impact on society, to create a forum for交流 between inventors, to honor the intellectual property rights of others, and to increase awareness of the value of intellectual property to companies, universities, and the overall U.S. economy.

The NAI’s mission is to create a culture of innovation through education, supporting free exchange of ideas, public policy advocacy, and individual mentoring and networking. The NAI is a member organization of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS). The NAI is open to any inventor, academic or business who holds or has applied for a U.S. patent, or an inventor working at a nonprofit or university who is assigned a U.S. patent. The NAI’s mission is to create a culture of innovation through education, supporting free exchange of ideas, public policy advocacy, and individual mentoring and networking. The NAI is a member organization of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS).