Oregon Research Quarterly – Spring 2018

The Office of the Vice President for Research and Innovation (OVPRI) is pleased to announce the launch of the Oregon Research Quarterly – Spring 2018. This publication marks the culmination of an extensive effort to share the success stories of the university’s incredible research community.

The Oregon Research Quarterly is a new way for us to connect with you and engage with the UO research community. It features articles on faculty research, student projects, and community partnerships. It also highlights the impact of UO research on Oregon and beyond.

In this edition, you’ll find articles about:

- The launch of the Oregon Research Quarterly
- The Undergraduate Research Symposium
- The role of research in addressing global challenges
- The importance of interdisciplinary research
- The impact of UO research on the local community

We hope you enjoy reading the Oregon Research Quarterly – Spring 2018 and that it inspires you to learn more about the amazing research happening at the University of Oregon.

Sincerely,

The Office of the Vice President for Research and Innovation (OVPRI)
