Parting Shot

Erb Memorial Union Ballroom on Thursday, The eighth annual Operandi UROP has recently interviewed two undergraduate researchers as part of their regular series internal controls.

February 2018. She will be overseeing all post-awards functions and will serve as the lead on audits and Carrie Chesbro is the new Associate Director of Post Award. She has been serving as the Interim AD since for the day-to-day transactional work and management of the post-award teams.

Staffing Updates

Staffing Updates received, and the positive impact their contributions make worldwide,” said Chuck Williams, associate vice innovators, both past and present, for their groundbreaking work in research, the patents our inventors have by AAU institutions that supports academic inventions and the societal impact of university research.

The University of Oregon celebrated the launch of the first chapter

The University of Oregon celebrated the launch of the first future trainings, send an email to in order to encourage students from underrepresented groups to remain in STEM fields. For information on from the Mentorship and Inclusivity Workshop You are receiving this email because you are an active faculty member, currently enrolled graduate student, and interesting questions. You can follow along at OVPRI has started a new Instagram account featuring the daily research activities taking place across campus. We aim to share the stories of students and faculty who work to solve a wide range of important

UO environmental science student Rachel Cleveland recently traveled to Washington D.C. to attend Undergraduate Student Advocates for Research Funding. "One of the main talking points when I went to talk with my representatives was to give examples as to why our funding matters. It's more impactful when you can tell a story about why I've benefited and why other from the Academy of Sciences. Cleveland's attendance was sponsored by the CASE program, which is funded largely by the Vice President for Research and Innovation with additional support from"