Parting Shot

majors.

The eighth annual Undergraduate Research Symposium Bigger Than Ever Operandi UROP has recently interviewed two undergraduate researchers as part of their regular series A Closer Look at Undergraduate Researchers UROP Funding Opportunities

February 2018. She will be overseeing all post-awards functions and will serve as the lead on audits and Staffing Updates for the day-to-day transactional work and management of the post-award teams.

The University of Oregon celebrated the launch of the first University of Oregon formally joined NAI last year. NAI is a member organization with strong representation chapter

The NAI was founded in 2010 to recognize and encourage inventors with patents issued from the U.S.

innovators, both past and present, for their groundbreaking work in research, the patents our inventors have

"We're proud to be a part of this organization, which will allow us to recognize and encourage the many UO

Undergraduate Student Advocates for Research Funding

Rachel Cleveland recently traveled to Washington D.C. to attend Undergraduate biology student Natalie Mosqueda uses blue dye to stain the bones of developing

"One of the main talking points when I went to talk with my representatives was to give examples as to why

Rachel Cleveland was the only AAS CASE workshop attendee from Oregon

"My experience with the UROP program was pivotal in helping me gain the confidence I needed to.

"In the past, I've talked in general terms about the importance of having a variety of funds to choose from, but "One thing that really stood out to me was the value of opportunities to learn about the science behind the University of Oregon environmental science student Rachel Cleveland recently received more than $2.8 million in support of research activities. During the month 25 new awards totaling more than $2.8 million in support of research activities.

The office is committed to enhancing these efforts by providing mentorship and Inclusivity Workshop

You are receiving this email because you are an active faculty member, currently enrolled graduate student,

OVPRI has started a new Instagram account featuring the daily research activities taking place across

"We will be sharing many of the projects in our monthly award reports, but if you're interested in learning

Student - Mentorship and Inclusivity Workshop

May 24-25 training graduate students and postdocs who will mentor a SPUR RDS will host a workshop on May 24-25 training graduate students and postdocs who will mentor a SPUR

"In order to encourage students from underrepresented groups to remain in STEM fields. For information on

Since graduate students are now eligible for the workshop, there will also be career development training for

"I think it's immensely important to have the opportunity to talk at these events. I am one of the luckiest

"I was just a year out of my master’s degree, yet I was able to participate in the program and present my

Rachel Cleveland (photo: By-the-Wind Sailor Jellyfish, National Parks Service)