Welcome to the Department of Communication’s Winter 2020 alumni newsletter!

We hope you enjoy this snapshot of the department’s recent accomplishments.

With the Fall 2020 semester in the rearview mirror, we are anticipating a restful holiday season before classes resume in the new year. It seems like lately there is never a dull moment, so with this newsletter we try to convey just a snapshot of the department’s recent accomplishments.

Our faculty are achieving national success in their undergraduate programs, and we are sharing a few highlights.

Mazer Department Chair Joe Lathrop

After participating as a member of the President’s Council, Professor Paul Ford joined the department in August 2020 graduates. The chance to personally recognize all our graduates during commencement is one of our newest graduates would conclude. They completed their Clemson journeys in the face of challenges that none of us have seen before. I am incredibly proud of their hard work and accomplishments.

David Miller, President

Professor Greg Cranmer received the 2020 Sue DeWine Book Award from the National Communication Association’s Social Cognition Division. His book, “Athletic Coaching: A Communication Perspective,” was recently published by Peter Lang.

Greg Cranmer

On November 14th, I had the opportunity to represent faculty in the Department of Communication at the College of Behavioral, Social and Health Sciences’ graduation ceremony. This ceremony recognized May and August 2020 graduates. The chance to personally recognize all our graduates during commencement is one of our newest graduates would conclude. They completed their Clemson journeys in the face of challenges that none of us have seen before. I am incredibly proud of their hard work and accomplishments.

David Miller, President

Award from the National Communication Association’s Applied Communication Division. His book, “Goal Understanding, Uncertainty Reduction, and Perceptions in Cyberbullying: Theoretical Evidence from Three Experiments,” was recently published in the Journal of Computer-Mediated Communication, one of the top journals in the discipline.

Skye Wingate

Ph.D. in communication. Skye’s teaching and research interests are in strategic communication, public relations, and nonprofit organizations.

Skye Wingate

We also welcomed Jordan Devine to the Department of Communication as an academic advisor for our undergraduate programs. We are thrilled to have Jordan on board. She already challenges our thinking and helps our students navigate issues that are made more challenging by the COVID-19 pandemic.

Jordan Devine

Please consider the department in your holiday giving this year! Your gift will have a meaningful impact and can be tax-deductible, even through a stock gift. These gifts can be made from a checking or savings account or by using a credit/debit card.

Have a happy holiday season, a healthy and prosperous new year and…Go Tigers!

Jennifer P. Reeves, Ph.D.
Professor & Chair

Follow the Department of Communication

Research Success

Robert Corrigan receives this year’s Winter issue of our alumni newsletter. If you have questions, concerns, or comments, you can see my email address listed above.

I encourage you to remain engaged with the Department of Communication by following us on Facebook (@ClemsonCOMM), Twitter (@ClemsonCOMM), and Instagram (@clemson_comm). We always enjoy learning about your accomplishments and successes.

Have a happy holiday season, a healthy and prosperous new year and…Go Tigers!

Jennifer P. Reeves, Ph.D.
Professor & Chair

Subscribe

Learn more about...