With the Fall 2020 semester in the rearview mirror, we are anticipating a restful holiday season before classes resume in the new year. It seems like lately there is never a dull moment, so with this newsletter we try to convey just a snapshot of the department's recent accomplishments.

With the title of the newsletter being "The Power of Communication," we hope it inspires and encourages all of our alumni to remain engaged with the Department of Communication by following us on Facebook (https://www.facebook.com/ClemsonCOMM), Twitter (@ClemsonCOMM), and Instagram (@clemson_comm). We always enjoy the updates about our faculty, staff and students written by updates our department blog space for regular (https://blogs.clemson.edu/clemsoncommunication/).

We are doing and even more excited about our future.

President Clements to serve on Institute’s Leadership Institute last year, Joe was asked by Professor Brusco to represent faculty in the undergraduate intern team. After participating as a member of the President’s Leadership Institute, Joe was asked by the President to serve on the Institute’s Leadership Institute. Joe won the Distinguished Scholar Award from the National Communication Association’s Social Cognition Division. His article, “Victims’ Perceptions of Intentions, Goal Understanding, Uncertainty Reduction, and Perceptions in Cyberbullying: Theoretical Evidence from Three Experiments,” was recently published in the Journal of Computer-Mediated Communication, one of the top journals in the discipline.

We also welcomed Jordan Elling to the Department of Communication as academic advisor for our undergraduate program. Jordan received her Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Delaware in Communication Studies and her Master of Science from the University of Delaware in Communication. Jordan completed her Ph.D. in Communication and Mass Media from the University of Colorado, Boulder. In her role as academic advisor, Jordan will be responsible for assisting students with academic matters and advising students on their academic careers.

President Clements joins us from the University of Colorado, Boulder, where she completed her Ph.D. in Communication and Mass Media and completed her Master of Science in Communication. Jordan’s research interests are in strategic communication, public relations and organizational communication.

If you have questions, comments, or if you just want to chat, please don’t hesitate to contact me. We are thrilled about what we are doing and even more excited about our future.

We hope you enjoy the Winter 2020 issue of our alumni newsletter. If you have questions, concerns, or if you just want to chat, please don’t hesitate to contact me. We are thrilled about what we are doing and even more excited about our future.

Have a happy holiday season, a healthy and prosperous new year and... Go Tigers!
