With the Fall 2020 semester in the rearview mirror, we are anticipating a restful holiday season before classes resume in the new year. It seems like lately there is never a dull moment, so with this newsletter we try to convey just a snapshot of the department’s recent accomplishments.

A monthly gift to the department is an ongoing investment in the future of Clemson’s communication programs. We are excited to have Jordan on board. She is already making a difference in undergraduate programs. We also welcomed Jordan Elling who joins us from the University of California, Davis, where she completed her Ph.D. in communication. Jordan’s teaching and research interests are in interpersonal communication, public relations and nonprofit organizations.

We also welcomed Professor Brandon Boatwright. Brandon teaches and researches in health communication, public relations and non-profit organizations. Brandon recently completed his Ph.D. at Penn State University and joins the Department of Communication at the College of Behavioral, Social and Health Sciences’ graduation ceremony. This ceremony recognized May and June 2020 graduates. The chance to personally recognize all our graduates during commencement is an especially meaningful moment, and can be made easier than ever through a recurring gift. These gifts can be made from a checking or savings account, or a credit card. The gift is automatically deducted from your account each month, and you can change or cancel your gift at any time. To learn more, see the Department of Communication Excellence Fund on Clemson’s online giving site.

Everyone in the Department has been working on ways to maximize our ability to educate our students, generate high quality, impactful research and serve the University— in the midst of the COVID-19 global pandemic. We hope you enjoy the Winter 2020 issue of our alumni newsletter. If you have questions, concerns, or suggestions, if you just want to kick back and relax, please don’t hesitate to contact me. We are all in this together and we truly can be stronger by applying the lessons learned, of us in the department and at Clemson, to not only how strong we really are, but also how much stronger we truly can be. Everyone in the Department has been working on ways to maximize our ability to educate our students, generate high quality, impactful research and serve the University—in the midst of the COVID-19 global pandemic. We hope you enjoy the Winter 2020 issue of our alumni newsletter. If you have questions, concerns, or suggestions, if you just want to kick back and relax, please don’t hesitate to contact me. We are all in this together and we truly can be stronger by applying the lessons learned, of us in the department and at Clemson, to not only how strong we really are, but also how much stronger we truly can be.

Please consider the department in your holiday giving this year! Your gift will have a meaningful impact on our students from now through a lifelong giving. Gifts can be made by contacting us by phone, email, or online. A monthly gift to the department is an ongoing investment in the future of Clemson’s communication programs.

With the Fall 2020 semester in the rearview mirror, we are anticipating a restful holiday season before classes resume in the new year. It seems like lately there is never a dull moment, so with this newsletter we try to convey just a snapshot of the department’s recent accomplishments.

A monthly gift to the department is an ongoing investment in the future of Clemson’s communication programs. We are excited to have Jordan on board. She is already making a difference in undergraduate programs. We also welcomed Jordan Elling who joins us from the University of California, Davis, where she completed her Ph.D. in communication. Jordan’s teaching and research interests are in interpersonal communication, public relations and nonprofit organizations. Brandon recently completed his Ph.D. at Penn State University and joins the Department of Communication at the College of Behavioral, Social and Health Sciences’ graduation ceremony. This ceremony recognized May and June 2020 graduates. The chance to personally recognize all our graduates during commencement is an especially meaningful moment, and can be made easier than ever through a recurring gift. These gifts can be made from a checking or savings account, or a credit card. The gift is automatically deducted from your account each month, and you can change or cancel your gift at any time. To learn more, see the Department of Communication Excellence Fund on Clemson’s online giving site.

Everyone in the Department has been working on ways to maximize our ability to educate our students, generate high quality, impactful research and serve the University—in the midst of the COVID-19 global pandemic. We hope you enjoy the Winter 2020 issue of our alumni newsletter. If you have questions, concerns, or suggestions, if you just want to kick back and relax, please don’t hesitate to contact me. We are all in this together and we truly can be stronger by applying the lessons learned, of us in the department and at Clemson, to not only how strong we really are, but also how much stronger we truly can be.