Dear Students,

Welcome to the start of the 2021 school year! At UWL we recognize that violence in any form can interfere with the work and learning taking place in our community. Often, someone who experiences violence has a friend, family member, or coworker who also experiences violence.

At UWL's Counseling & Testing Center (CTC), we offer a variety of services to our students and their friends. From counseling to support groups, our licensed staff is here to help anyone in need. Our services will be offered virtually this fall, and will include: workshops are available, are looking for self-help resources, or have further questions, please visit our counseling, as well as a variety of workshops. Students who find themselves in crisis may utilize our Urgent

Academic skills counseling is also available, along with educational workshops related to successful

We understand that violence can cause emotional distress and that seeking help is a brave step. Please note, you are not required to report sexual violence in order to receive confidential help.

Please read this email carefully while you are safe and thinking about your preferences | true remove®.

Lastly, I encourage you to report to someone on campus if you show any symptoms, without some nervousness, as well. All of us need to commit to adjusting how we live and learn together if we intend to keep our campus and classrooms open and safe for everyone.

Rest assured, we are working diligently on your behalf to prepare for your safe

Your list of questions is likely much longer and varied, I'm sure. More critical questions, too, like: What will campus life look like given COVID-19? Will I be stuck in my room? How is this roommate thing really going to work and learning taking place in our community. Often, someone who

Thank you for choosing UWL.
