The general purpose of Textbook Rental Services is to provide textbooks so that we can properly social distance during the checkout time period. The textbook rental program—which means you've already paid for (at least the majority of) textbooks—means that you've already paid for your textbooks. Undergraduate students pay a textbook rental fee each semester as part of their tuition to support the educational needs of UW-La Crosse undergraduate students. We are able to offer all of these services virtually if needed!

Are you registered with the Access Center? If not, we highly recommend that you register. You can find the test on the regionaltestingsite at UW-La Crosse. You will register for your test using your UWL NetID password. Once you are registered, you will receive a confirmation email.

You will need to complete a test to be placed into the appropriate math, English, or World Language course. You will be contacted by the Academic Advising Center & Career Services Office if you are unable to complete your test during the specified time period.

Hybrid classes are necessary because the physical distancing needs in the classroom make it impossible to accommodate a fully enrolled class. Hybrid classes (sometimes referred to as online course meetings) are different from fully online courses because they require students to be physically present in the classroom for some or all of the class time.

For courses to be held on campus, UWL will be prioritizing courses that have the greatest amount of face-to-face instruction. This will ensure that the educational goals of the course are met while also maintaining physical distancing.

For every class based on the educational goals, but the types of materials you need to complete the semester starts and your instructor will let you know the expectations. However, keep that time period free for the class. The hybrid model is different from online courses because the hybrid model requires students to be physically present in the classroom for some or all of the class time.

The college experience is about more than just the classes you take. It's also about the people you meet and the experiences you have. And there are plenty of those for everyone! We've got the resources to help you get the most out of your college experience. Come to college with an open mind about majors and careers and campus events that hold your attention. See where you excel. Those experiences and personality inventories, to get objective feedback. Pay attention to classes, activities, their programs. No ONE major is the right major!

The Academic Advising Center & Career Services Office (AACCS) is there to serve student academic and career advising needs. The Academic Advisor and Career Advisor at AACCS will work with you to determine your academic and career goals and provide support in reaching those goals. The academic advisor will work with you to develop a plan for achieving your academic goals and requirements. The career advisor will work with you to help with your transition to UWL.
