Study Abroad

LMU Study Abroad Newsletter - February 2022 Edition

Semester-abroad! LMU Study Abroad and Career and Professional Development have teamed up to connect students with career-focused study tours help you discover Europe and learn valuable business skills at the same time. This three-week experiential program in early summer provides an opportunity for graduating seniors to live in Germany, participate in professional development workshops, and learn about the culture of the cornerstone of Western civilization!

LMU's study abroad options include:
- Germany: LMU Summer Immersion in Bonn: Career Development in Engineering
- Morocco: SIT in Rabat
- Ireland: LMU in Dublin
- India: SIT in Jaipur
- Germany: LMU in Germany
- Costa Rica, El Salvador, & Mexico: Augsburg University
- Peru: SIT in Lima
- Philippines, Singapore, Taiwan, and Vietnam. Open to U.S.

Applications must be submitted by March 1 for your upcoming summer or semester program. If you're a first-year Engineering major, Applications are still being accepted for select programs:
- Unofficial transcript and Advisors certifications
- 3 short essays: Statement of Purpose; Impact essay; Service project proposal
- Your study abroad program info
- Make progress toward graduation and degree requirements
- Open to all majors
- Terms and Conditions

The Fulbright U.S. Student Program offers fully funded opportunities to study and teach abroad. The Department of State and the Institute of International Education administer this prestigious program and cover international travel, tuition, housing, and subsistence. LMU Study Abroad is working with the OFFICE OF NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL FELLOWSHIPS (ONIF) to help students apply. Applications are still being accepted for select programs:
- Application support.
- Fewer than 5 years of work experience in the field,
- Be a U.S.-based professional journalist, currently working for U.S.
- Be a Master's student (at the time of application) in the field of journalism or communications at a U.S. university.
- Be a U.S.-based professional journalist, currently working for U.S.
- Be a U.S.-based professional journalist, currently working for U.S.
- Be a U.S.-based professional journalist, currently working for U.S.
- Be a U.S.-based professional journalist, currently working for U.S.
- Be a U.S.-based professional journalist, currently working for U.S.
- Be a U.S.-based professional journalist, currently working for U.S.
- Be a U.S.-based professional journalist, currently working for U.S.

LMU Peace and Reconciliation

The Berlin Capital Program invites early-career U.S. journalists and journalism students to develop their professional skills and knowledge of German and European society. It includes meetings, visits, discussions with German and expat members of the media, experts in transatlantic issues, and workshops with German and expat members of the media, experts in transatlantic issues. It aims to enhance their understanding of transatlantic issues, expand their network of contacts, and prepare them for careers in journalism.

The program includes:
- Meetings with German and expat members of the media, experts in transatlantic issues
- Workshops with German and expat members of the media, experts in transatlantic issues
- Discussions with German and expat members of the media, experts in transatlantic issues
- Visits to German and expat media organizations
- Preparing for the transition to the professional world
- Participants will be guided by the program advisor and will work in teams to develop a project on an issue of their choice.

The program is open to U.S.

Deadline: March 21. In 2022, the program offered 10 awards. The selection process is competitive.

Springboard to Brazil

This program is a partnership between LMU Study Abroad and BrazilFoundation, a non-profit organization dedicated to the development of Brazil. The program offers an opportunity for students to immerse themselves in Brazilian culture, learn about Brazilian politics, economics, and society, and gain a deeper understanding of the country's role in the world.

The program includes:
- Visits to Brazilian cities and regions
- Excursions to cultural and historical sites
- Guest lectures by Brazilian experts
- Classroom discussions and debates

This program is open to U.S.

Deadline: April 1. In 2022, the program offered 10 awards. The selection process is competitive.

Ways to Connect with the Study Abroad Program Advisors

- Office Hours
- Zoom Meetings
- Email: studyabroad@lmu.edu

For more information, please visit LMU Study Abroad online.