UAH College of Science receives $2M gift from William Henry McMullen III Trust to fund 3 chemistry initiatives

The UAH College of Science received a $2 million gift from the William Henry McMullen III Trust to fund three initiatives in the Department of Chemistry: a graduate fellowship, a chemistry teaching laboratory and a fund to keep the chemistry labs on the cutting edge. Barbara Wadsworth, McMullen's daughter, selected UAH for the donation to honor the memory of her father, an analytical chemist.
